

What kind of equipment we take on a photographic trip.

The kits included anything from just a camera with a favorite or all-purpose zoom lens to camera plus multiple lenses. Many take tripods (and some even use them). Polarizer filters, extra batteries, and extra memory cards were frequently (and should always be) included. Often whether traveling by car or plane dictated what to carry. Four people said they carry more than one camera.